Fixes of bugs and performance improvements will make it hard to remember any problems I had with the application during a previous session, and sending that the opportunity to review should appear after each use, rather than when someone©started using the app. I start my day with the back of the day and thoroughly enjoy the messages of the game that accompany them every day. I've marking passages that are important to me. I was once a well-versed christian lady who attended church twice every Sunday, wednesdays and every time there was something going on in the church. I make many notes with scripture that I need to review and consider more at a later point. Share honest conversations about the Scriptures with a trusted community. I appreciate and appreciate this app. I love being able to pick up a verse that excites me and take a picture and save it to my phone or share it at FB. I highlighted text and created a library of verses to help me in specific situations. My hopeful is that this review is seen by the creators to make this change. It is difficult and frustrating to bring the prior notes that you did. It also gives me another way to approach God. Dozens of millions of people are using the usual apocalypse to make the word of God a part of their daily life. Secondly, it is also difficult to remove a Bank study plan that appears four times under A List of plan. So when I discovered that I could no longer inspire me to others, I hit my knees and was when I knew what I was missing. The only corrective commentary that would ask the developers to consider is to take the wave of color that fades by the opening of the prayer of the day and carries to the verse of the day as well as the final prayer: Third, I really like the application, including the verses of the Daily Bible and the opportunity to create a photo with the verse, or even use forests! This is fun! On the side of the study of the Bible, I love the ability to turn a version from the Bible to another with great ease, keeping themselves with the passage that you are currently focused.
